Captain Larcom stated that the meteor noticed at the last meeting had been observed in the county of Waterford by Lady Stuart de Rothsay. Her Ladyship had just left the glebe house of Kilmeadan, when the meteor caught her eye, appearing to light on the belfry of the church.

The Rev. Samuel Haughton mentioned its having been seen in the Queen's County, and also in the County Carlow, moving from the south-east to the north-west. One of his informants stated that it became invisible at a considerable altitude above the horizon.

Sir William Betham read the following account of a squared stone in the Museum of the Royal Irish Academy, sent there from Navan, in the County of Meath, by W. F. Wakeman, Esq.

“ This stone appears to have been a portion of the shaft of a market cross, and served to commemorate certain members of the ancient family of Nangle, or De Angulo, Barons of the Navan, in the Palatinate of Meath.
